THE DREAM

Gone with the wind is the best that I can give but still you won't disappear

You stay around and guide me when I'm lost again you know the turns that I should make

In your presence I feel calm and safe You give peace into my heart I trust that you will always be there It's the kind of love that lasts

So I fix my eyes on the dream I have 'cause I want to see the promised land This dream can't be put out of mind I'll hold onto it until the end of time

Not every ground can be the rock that I need always solid under my feet

So many things come and go as I move on But you're the goal I'm really heading for

YOU KNOW IT ALL

No one can tell what tomorrow's going to bring I'll take one step at a time

I know I can trust that you'll carry me you promised me to be beside me all my life

You know it all are aware of all of my daily thoughts and needs And you will find everything I hide so wide and deep you see

Out of my sight far too far from me is the place where the dawn breaks

But the dream you gave the hope you brought to me keep me going on 'til I see that lighter place

DARK LAND

Your smile comes to my mind when I look at where we used to play It always made you happy to share a moment with me

Now I'll never see you around these unforgettable places The years we shared became a memory, that's how time changes things

On your beauty I want to turn my eyes Abandon all that's bad
I just want to see the heaven

On your beauty I want to turn my eyes
So dark is this land
I just want to see the heaven

Everyone would say that you lived a good and meaningful life Just like on them, you left your mark on me, the girl next door

When these days of mine once end, where will I find my place?
Can I see you there with me, in the promised paradise?

YOU WILL NOT LEAVE ME

Looking back at all my old forgotten dreams there's something moving inside of me

Despite the trials and troubles it still breathes my faith in all-enduring everlasting love

You are here and I know that you will not leave me
When the world around me falls apart you will not leave me I ask for nothing more now that I know you won't leave me Forever I belong to you 'cause you will never leave me

I can't believe that once there was a time without you a time of empty hollow days passing me by

With your love you changed my life you made all things new when you poured your love on me I was brought back to life

WHO CARES

You had everything you ever wanted
You thought it is all you ever needed It seemed that you had reached it all Others envied you for your wellness They wanted to live life just like you You didn't know their love was not true

Don't you see it, can't you see it Please just see it, just receive it

Who will care anymore for you?
If you fail and can't go on like others do Who cares what you will do?
There is the one just for you

So many changes happened so fast You couldn't keep it in your hands Everything failed just in front of you

How can you get the touch of real love
If you meaning in your life
It seemed that you had lost it all

Don't you see it, can't you see it
Please just see it, just receive it

STILL WITH ME TODAY

The roads and the paths I've walked on aimlessly should clearly have been chosen differently

Although I see the circle just keeps going on,
I hurt you more and more, I can't make it stop

After all the times I've gone astray I've seen that you are here to stay and knowing what I'm like won't ever drive you away

Because you're still with me today and I know you're here to stay I give my all to you, I give my all

So many of the words that have come from my lips should've been left unsaid, they've been against your will

I wish I learned to use my words more like you and ignore the voices that don't speak the words of truth

GIVE ME WINGS

There's no sign of the sun, just clouds so grey they make it hard to see where this road takes There is always the wind on my face
There are these endlessly lightless days

Give me wings to fly
I need wings to fly to you when you call me Then I can cross the sea, I'll cross the land and sky

Give me wings strong enough to keep me in the air when I get weary then I'll make it there where I meet your love

There's the rain that leaves me cold again and reminds me of the tears shed in the past There's only you to hear my every prayer to give a sense of safety that can last

I BELONG TO YOU

You've given so much to me I can't be quiet of that all You've been so loving towards me Could you lead my life?

I want to give my best to you because I've got everything from you
You don't leave me all alone
There is nothing like you

I belong to you and I can give all my pain away Only with you I feel so safe to go my way

You mean so much to me
Your love is more than anything And you are there forever for me

I have nothing bad to fear because you walk beside me You will take the best care of me wherever I go

I want to give my best to you
because I've got everything from you
You don't leave me all alone
There is nothing like you

TRUST

I have felt the weight of worries on my shoulders I have seen the past again in front me

I have fought and lost my battles in my own strenght All along I knew there's no greater power than yours

Even if it means I must give up I choose to put my trust in You Even if it means changing inside I choose to let you make me new

It's my heart's desire to learn to know you more and more To discover what it means that you will always love me

Knowing you is the key to being free from longing There's no other way to become complete, only you make me whole

THIS DAY

All that I want is to live all my days with you 'cause all that I want is your unbreakable love You are my saviour, you are my strenght You give every breath to me

Although I'm not that what you want me to be you love me so much
I can't imagine anything better than this
I always want to love just you

Live this day with me and never fade away
I want to live this day with you Because you are my all, no one can ever take your place
I want to live this day with you

All the good things Ive got always come from you I want to know you more and more Your love is for me and for all forever
It gives a reason to live this day

Although I'm not that what you want me to be
you love me so much
I can't imagine anything better than this
I always want to love just you
